TO A WONDER
From A

A family dinner was held in the home of Charles Cook, Sunday, to celebrate his 90th birthday. He was born Feb. 6, 1876 in a log house on what is now known as Marquette Rd. He attended the Persel School and climbed rail fences on his way to school.

On November 26, 1903 he married Elvia Dunsmore, who died Feb. 25, 1959. They had three children, Vera DeGraw, Pontiac, Clifford, Lambs Rd. and Frederick, Marysville. They lived in Richmond at one time and St. Clair, where he

In 1916 they bought the rambling old hotel, on the corner of Wales Center Rd. and Lambs Rd., known as the Grover House. This 16 room building had been built of logs originally and later a frame and siding had been built around the logs and a second story added. It burned the day before Thanksgiving 1929. They built a comfortable stone house on the site where the old hotel had stood and that is what Charley lives in today.

old, was bought from Frank who did not know how to drive a car but learned to drive in about half an hour. Before any papers were signed he was told to take the car home and try it out to Insurance was as yet unheard of. Then if he liked it to "come back and pay me when you get around to it."

He was a Dairy Farmer from 1924 to 1955. In the early years the milk was separated from the cream and he took the cream to Goodells or Lambs to sell it. The skimmed milk was fed to the pigs.

Many changes and improvements took place during these years. He said that one of the best things to happen to the dairy farmer was when President Franklin D. Roosevelt authorized a milk bonus and raised the price of milk. This was soon after the depression and saved the farms for many farmers by enabling them to pay their mortgages.

Charley lives alone and does most of his own cooking. He is in excellent health, except he does not hear as well or see as well as he use to. But he watches all the Red Wing hockey games, in summer is a Tiger fan and listens to all the news broadcasts. He does not have a wrinkle on his face but he is growing short of hair.

Mark 50th Anniversary

MARYSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Margaret King, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lamb, 3332 Ravenswood Road, were honored May 3 at a surprise family dinner in the home of their son-in-law and foster daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Buck, Garden City, Mich., for their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary March 5 while spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Lamb is the former Margaret King. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb were married March 5, 1919, in the Port Huron First United Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, Lambs, were their attendants.

At the family dinner were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lamb, Port Huron; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lamb, Otisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard North, Pittsford, N.Y. They have 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Candace and Karren Hartson (left to right) have chosen to be teachers in the family tradition. Both of the girls also play the organ for St. Philips and Holy Rosary Church in Smiths Creek, Richmond.

Memphis Sisters Become 4th Generation Teachers

MEMPHIS — Candace and Karren Hartson have followed the family tradition by choosing to become the fourth generation of teachers in their family.

Karren is still attending college and has been on the Dean's List consecutively. She is attending Port Huron Junior College and will graduate in February. She also belongs to an Honor Society called the Phi Theta Kappa Fraternity. When Karren graduates she plans on teaching art in college.

Candace is teaching the second and third grades at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School in Emmett. Candace enjoys teaching at this school and the 31 "very sweet" children in her room. While teaching Candace is finishing her college education and will graduate from Wayne State University.

The girls both taught catechism before and while attending college. Candace taught for five years and Karren has for two years.

The Hartson family has lived on their farm for 110 years. Great-grandfather William Wallace Hartson purchased the 160 acres which at that time was covered with woods. He cleared and farmed the land and was also a teacher at the #6 or Persel School 1 1/2 miles from the farm.

William Nelson Hartson, his son, also taught at Persel School and at Burrville, and Mill Creek. He had attended college in Indiana.

His daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Marick, Mrs. Esther Scheible, Miss Nellie Hartson, and Mrs. Lelah Hudson

Police Will Enforce Safety Program

LANSING — Machinery is being geared up this month by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police for a new safety enforcement emphasis program designed to improve the driving behavior of motorists and to help reverse Michigan's rising traffic toll.

Spokesmen for the chief's association have emphasized their concern over the state's worsening traffic accident situation. They point out that while motor vehicles increased 20 per cent and travel increased 27 per cent between 1961 and 1965, deaths have gone up 36 per cent, casualties 66 per cent and total reported accidents 55 per cent.

Unless this trend is forced downward, the next few months threaten to make 1966 the worst in Michigan's history.

The chief's association adopted the enforcement plan at its recent annual meeting upon recommendation of its Safety and Traffic committee. Under the plan, all police departments (including the Michigan State Police and Sheriffs' Departments) which GOODELLS — Mr. and Mrs. Sharron Hoskins, Goodells, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Frederick Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Baldwin, also of Goodells.

Miss Hoskins, a 1965 graduate of Yale High School, attends Port Huron Junior College. Her fiancé is a Port Huron High School graduate.

A summer wedding is planned in Trinity Lutheran Church.

"Sit" and "stay" will be heard at the Obedience Fun Match for Dogs to be conducted at Fiesta by members of St. Clair County 4-H K-9 College, including Gary Lukovich, models, with his German shepherd Lassie and Janet Lashbrook, Smith Creek with her cocker Nugget.

Vows Spoken

MEMPHIS — Amid a setting of poinsettias and Christmas trees Jane Elizabeth Hill and Keith D. Lashbrook were united in marriage, Dec. 24 in a double ring ceremony. The wedding took place in the Methodist Church, Memphis, with Rev. Max A. Weeks officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. Thomas Hill and the late Geraldine Hill, Goodells Rd. and Hilton Lashbrook and the late Vonda Lashbrook, Memphis.

Escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, Jane joined her husband-to-be wearing a white satin full length gown with a bell-shaped skirt of lace over satin. The gown was styled with wrist length sleeves and jewel neckline. Lace leaves held her fingertip veil in place. She carried white carnations and red roses on a white Bible.

Miss Jane Hill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, Miss Darlene Pittman, cousin of the bride and Miss Linda McGuire, cousin of the bridegroom were bridesmaids. The three girls wore identical dresses of green satin full length with bell-shaped skirts and square necklines. They each carried green carnations on white fur muffs and wore matching white fur hats.

The best man was Fletcher Kelley, cousin of the groom. Loren Short and Robert Murdick were ushers.

The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Mable Maurer, chose a dress of green print for her grandson's wedding, her flowers were white carnations. Mrs. Edna Coppage, grandmother of the bride, wore a beige dress and her flowers were pink roses.

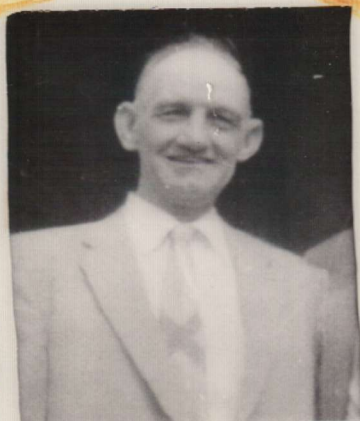

The organist, Mrs. Betty Camron, played Lohengrims "Wedding March", and special selections before the ceremony.

A reception followed immediately after the church service in the Memphis Youth Center. A buffet dinner was served to 75 guests who came from Kansas City, Mo., Detroit and Port Huron. Music and dancing followed.

After a weekend at Clarkston the couple are home at 3250 Rabidue Rd.

A Step Ahead Of the Space Age

It might be coincidence that Loma May resembles Amelia Earhart, but if the famous aviatrix for whom Loma had such admiration were alive today, it's pretty certain the two would be going about the country giving nearly identical speeches on "The Space Age."

Miss May, a member of the Ninety-Nines, an international association of women pilots, is also an athlete—a member of the Detroit Women's All Star Traveling (bowling) League and of the National 600 Bowling Club.

She won in a doubles Detroit City Tennis Tournament; and once was state champion in a golf driving tournament.

MISS MAY is a musician. She plays violin and composes lyrics for songs.

While "degree-getting," she taught school. At 19 she was a principal.

All this has nothing to do with the job she holds down for Jam Handy Organization as its business executive. She is a writer and planner. She is an administrator in areas of manpower development, training, co-ordination, personnel, recruiting, placement and supervision.

Youth Sets Sights On Farming, Bee-Keeping

Astronaut, engineer, chemist, teacher and lawyer — all are fine professions.

But for Lawrence M. Olds Jr., they are not what he has in mind.

Lawrence, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Olds, 4858 East Main Street, Applegate, has two goals.

HE PLANS ON furthering himself as a farmer, and also will try his hand at bee-keeping.

A senior at Carsonville High School he will attend Michigan State University in the fall.

The 6-foot 3-inch, 225-pound youth has been working on a farm since he was 12 years old.

"I guess it's in my blood," he said.

Morning and evening farm chores are nothing new for Larry.

HE HAS rented land for his crops and bought his own tractor and cultivator, and owns a number of registered cattle.

Larry has worked on the farm of Floyd Johnston, Applegate for 3½ years.

He played varsity football and basketball for the Carsonville Tigers for three years.

Larry is a member of the high school student council and serves as vice president of his class.

He received a citizenship award in his junior year and also was a representative for the National Convention of the Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, Mo. He also was a delegate to the State convention in Lansing.

He is president of the school FFA.

He is a former Boy Scout and a member of the 4-H club in Applegate.

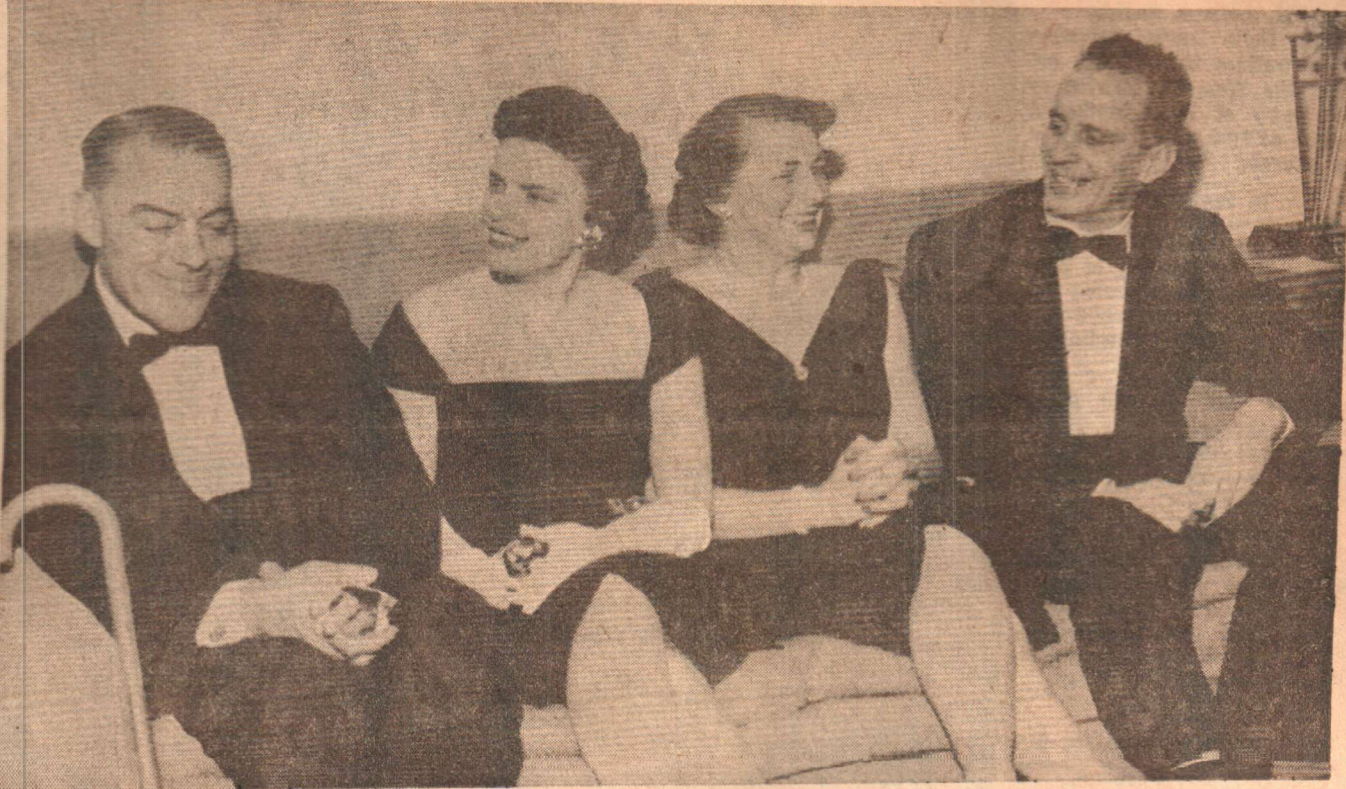

Larry, who says farming gives a person a feeling of inner satisfaction, certainly deserves to be saluted as — Teen Of The Week.

GOODELLS — Janet Lashbrook, Mayer Rd., was a regional winner at the 45th National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago, Nov. 26 to Dec. 2. More than 2,000 delegates from every state in the Union, Africa, Asia and Canada were divided into 18 regions and Janet was judged as having the most outstanding record of Achievement in her region.

She was also chosen as a 4-H Club emblem bearer for the annual ceremonies held at the International Livestock Expedition.

The 34 Michigan delegates appeared on a local Chicago radio program. The entire congress visited the Art Institute, Museum of Natural History, Chicago Board of Trade and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra presented a special concert for them at Orchestra Hall.

She talked with as many of those attending as possible. Some of the most interesting was a boy from India, who had exquisite and very precise manners. He had been in this country about six months on the Ivey Program (International Farm Youth Exchange) and was quite impressed by the abundance of food and the big variety in this country.

A discussion with Graham Pusch, Saskatchewan, Canada, revealed that the choosing of delegates in Canada is a little different from here. In Canada they are chosen for their over all achievement record while Janet was chosen for her record in one project. She met each one of the Hawaiian delegation and found they were very friendly and interesting.

Fire Razes Home At Goodells

3/31/67
The home of Mrs. Roy Lindsay, 8728 Rynn Road, Goodells, was destroyed by fire Friday.

Deputy Sheriffs reported the entire second-story of the brick-faced house was in flames when the Kenockee Fire Department arrived on the scene. The Emmett Fire Department was called immediately for assistance, but the house was destroyed, deputies said.

Firemen and neighbors were able to remove some furniture from the first floor of the house before flames reached it. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Mrs. Lindsay was not at home at the time. The fire was reported by neighbors.

Carl T. Fox Goodells

Carl T. Fox, 84, went home to be with the Lord on Saturday, December 3, 2011, following a courageous battle with Parkinson's disease. He was born on May 7, 1927 in Lambs, Michigan to the late Chester and Eliza

Ann (Thomas) Fox.

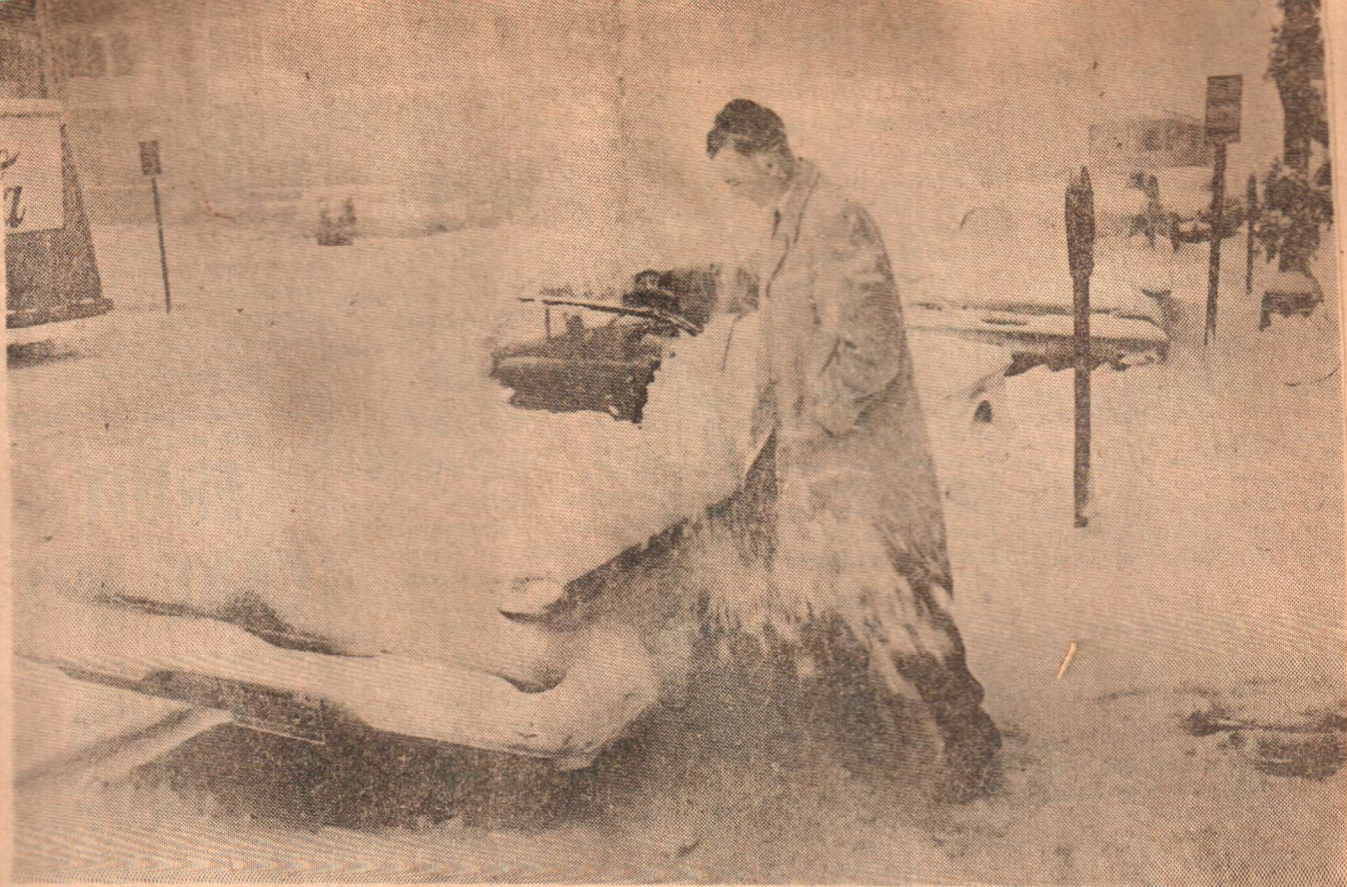

Carl graduated from Memphis High School in 1945. He married Margaret Sullivan on June 28, 1947 and they enjoyed many years of being a husband and wife team on the family farm. In 1955 the U.S. Army called Carl to service and he was deployed to the U.S. Army Garrison in Wiesbaden, Germany for peacetime occupation. He achieved the rank of Specialist Third Class and served his country until 1957. When he returned stateside, he resumed his passion of farming for another 50 years.

Carl was employed by the St. Clair County Road Commission for over 13 years and served on the Wales Township Taxation Board of Review for many years. He looked forward to his annual "Father and Son Day" visiting the Thumb Area and Mid-Michigan John Deere dealerships.

Carl was able to enjoy spending 23 winters in Zephyrhills, Florida with his wife, Margaret. He enjoyed bike riding, the Detroit Tigers spring training ball games, and numerous parades and festivals. Friends and family were usually treated to one or two of Carl's letters each winter as he was known for sending correspondence that would update the reader on the activities he was enjoying and a brief weather report about the sunny skies of Florida.

Carl was a lifelong member of the First Baptist Church of Goodells and for over 30 years he served as the Sunday School Superintendent, the Head Usher and a dedicated Church Board member. He dedicated his life to Christ at a very early age and his love of his Lord and Savior was reflected in the way he lived his life. He was kind, gracious and generous to the local farming community, friends, and, most of all, his family.

Carl is survived by his wife of over 64 years, Margaret Fox of Goodells; son, Dennis (Kathy) Fox of Goodells; three granddaughters, Crystal Fox of Port Huron Township, and

WIND-WHIPPED SNOW half buried cars and piled up drifts in the downtown district today. Here Bernard M. Short, 3288 Metcalf road, goes to work on his car parked along Water street. Cars had an easier time than expected getting through the snow because it was light and fluffy. Road crews were out in force, clearing city streets and district highways. PURR-FECTLY CONTENTED

Purr . . . purr . . . purr-fectly contented is the little black kitten in the hands of Susan Simpson, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Simpson, 448 Keewahdin Road, North Street. The tiny bundle of black fur with white paws and neck was just about big enough for a handful of loving care . . . and Susan responds.

Mrs. David H. Storms

Honeymooning In New England

The bride wore a long lavender orchid with streamers and a bouquet of white and Mrs. Charles of white stephanotis on a white head band and David H. Bible. The Bible was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Storms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Storms, Millersburg, Mich., St. Clair Hospital.

Wore married in a double ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church in St. Clair Saturday evening.

Rev. Roscoe Arthur of the Mt. Pleasant Gospel church, Goodells, officiated before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums, snapdragons, candelabra and palms. He was assisted by Rev. Reed of the St. Clair Methodist church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace, fashioned with a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel train. The Sabrina neckline of the princess style bodice was enhanced with sequins and seed pearls. Long fitted sleeves formed points over the hands.

The bride wore a cultured seed pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. Her three tiered net fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of a

Maid of honor, Miss Lois Hunt, Detroit, wore a floor length gown of red velvet, white fur head band and carried a white fur muff with streamers of stephanotis.

Bridesmaid Miss Joan Schmidt, Kawkawlin, Mich., and junior bridesmaid Julia Raymond, niece of the bride from St. Clair, both wore green velvet gowns, identical in style to the maid of honor's. Flower girl Sonja Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lamb, Port Huron, also wore a red velvet dress and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Ring bearers were Craig Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Celdon Raymond, St. Clair and Eddie King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster King, Lamb, both nephews of the bride.

Dean Storms, brother of the bridegroom, Bay City, was best man and ushers were Gerald
